

As victims and survivors of terror attacks, we know the devastating cost of hatred and extremism.

These acts have changed our lives forever and taken people we loved.

We write today with deep concern at the rise in hostility and attacks against the Jewish community in our country and with an appeal to stand united against it. We understand the fear felt by the Jewish community.

Those who justify those antisemitic attacks as being a result of Israel's actions are not simply wrong, but create an environment where more attacks are more likely. Please stop.

Similarly, those who blame all Muslims for the actions of the terrorist create the kind of division and hatred that terrorists crave.

Standing together in the face of hatred is not just the right thing to do - it's the most effective way of defeating terrorism in all its forms.

We urge a renewed commitment to protecting the safety and dignity of all communities in this country, including our Jewish fellow citizens. This hatred has to stop.

Signed:

Jo Berry CBE, bereaved, Brighton bombing

Brendan Cox, widower of Jo Cox MP

Darryn Frost QGM, survivor of the 2019 Fishmongers' Hall attack

Marine Vincent, survivor of the London Bridge terror attack (3 June 2017)

Cath Hill, witness to the Manchester Arena attack (2017)

Lisa Ghiggini, survivor of the Fishmongers' Hall attack

Sheelagh Alexander, my son Nick Alexander was killed at the Bataclan in Paris in 2015

Nader Mozakka, my wife Behnaz Mozakka was killed in 7/7

Samantha Jane Jones, Manchester Arena bombing (22 May 2017)

Megan Wilkie, survivor of the Manchester Arena bombing (2017)

Steve Gallant QGM, intervened during the Fishmongers' Hall terrorist attack (2019)

Rosalind Morley, 7/7; I lost my husband in this atrocity

Joanne Aaron, Manchester Arena attack (22 May 2017)

Jenny Fogarty, survivor of the Fishmongers' Hall attack

Richard Parry, survivor of the 7/7 London bombings

Charlie Kinsella, survivor of the Manchester Arena attack

Sarah Drinkwater, survivor of the Manchester Arena attack

Mark Tipper, lost a loved one in the Hyde Park bombing

Joanne Tipper, lost a loved one in the Hyde Park bombing

Stephen Noone, survivor of the Manchester Arena attack

Natalie Potter, was at the Manchester Arena concert during the attack

Tom Croasdell, survivor of the Sharm El Sheikh attacks (2005)

Siobhan Mackenzie, witness to the Manchester Arena attack
Mo Norton, lost a loved one to terrorism (M62 bombing)
Figen Murray, bereaved mother; her son was killed in the Manchester Arena attack
Lisa Fenton, witness to the Manchester Arena attack
Jennifer Dowling, survivor of the 2002 Bali bombing
Joanne Owen, my daughter Carly was killed in the Tunisia attack
Nicolas Hénin, survivor of a terrorist abduction in Syria (2013–14)
Sarah Webb, survivor of the 7/7 London bombings
Holly Taylor, survivor of the Manchester Arena attack
Gill Hirst, survivor of the Manchester Arena attack
David S. Delew OBE, survivor of the Manchester synagogue attack
Charlotte Sutcliffe, bereaved following the Brussels attack
Lucia Perdios, was in Manchester Arena with my son during the attack
Kevin Tipple, survivor of the Palace of Westminster attack (22 March 2017)
Paul Price, survivor and bereaved from the Manchester Arena attack
Susan Greenwood, survivor of the 7/7 London bombings
Holly Blackett, survivor of the Manchester Arena bombing
Daren Buckley, survivor of the Manchester Arena attack; ran into the bomb site to save lives
Lisa Taylor, survivor of the Manchester Arena attack
Ellie Taylor, survivor of the Manchester Arena attack
Lisa Marshall, survivor and witness of the 7/7 Tavistock Square bombing
Ella Young, injured in the 7/7 Edgware Road attack
Sarah Nellist, survivor of the Manchester Arena attack (2017)
Dr Stuart Murray, survivor of the Manchester Arena attack
Cheryl Stollery, bereaved and survivor of the Sousse attack (Tunisia)
David Merritt & Anne Merritt, parents of Jack Merritt, killed in the 2019 Fishmongers' Hall attack
Christian Fisher, survivor of the 7/7 London bombings
Adrian Hughes, family member affected by the Fishmongers' Hall attack
Janet Furlong, my son James Furlong was killed in the Forbury Gardens attack (20 June 2020), alongside Joseph Ritchie-Bennett and David Wails
James Hodder, survivor and bereaved of the London Bridge attack (2017)
Caroline Beattie, mother of Luke Rutter, who was killed by ISIS after travelling to Syria
Dr Penelope Mendonça, survivor of the Fishmongers' Hall terror attack (2019)
Geoff Ho, survivor of the London Bridge attack (2017)
Kirstine McDowall, witness and survivor of the London Bridge attack (2017)
Trevor Hulme, survivor of the Manchester Arena attack
Keith Chapman, survivor of the Westminster attack
Mike Haines OBE, brother of David Haines, murdered by ISIS
Michelle Jones, bereaved following the Fishmongers' Hall attack
Michael Dixon, lost my brother in the Brussels attack
Paul Greenan, survivor of the Manchester Arena attack
Rebecca Hinton, survivor of the Manchester Arena attack